Art Restoration

of Fire, Smoke and Water damaged art

When the flames have been extinguished, there is much work to do and to do quickly. Art, either on canvas or paper, can be restored with timely preparation and care.

The professional experts at Max Marbles/Art Restoration are trained in advanced conservation techniques necessary in saving art work. We have worked on thousands of cases for insurance companies, museums and individuals. We understand the requirements of disaster recovery.

We consistently restore art work that most would think impossible. The difference is a proper assessment of need and the detailed attention we give each piece. All the restoration processes utilized are time honored and scientifically proven; They include:

- * Emergency assessment and advice
- * Art work packing and shipping
- * Art work cleanup and preservation
- * Value assessment
- * Meeting your important deadlines
- * Art services on various other media
